DAILY SENTINEL.

"I WOULD RATHER BE RIGHT THAN BE PRESIDENT."—Henry Clay.

VOL. I. RALEIGH, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1866 NO. 159.

DAILY SENTINEL.

Thursday, February 15, 1866.

ADDRESS OF PRESIDENT JOHNSON

In reply to the Virginia delegation, who called on him recently.

In reply, gentlemen, to the resolutions you have just presented to me, and the clear and forcible and concise remarks which you have made in explanation of the position of Virginia, I shall not attempt to make a formal speech, but simply enter into a plain conversation in regard to the condition of things in which we stand.

As a premise to what I may say, permit me first to tender you my thanks for this visit, and next to express the gratification I feel in meeting so many intelligent, responsible, and respectable men of Virginia, bearing to me the sentiments which have been expressed in the resolutions of your Legislature and in the remarks accompanying them.

They are, so far as they refer to the Constitution of the country, the sentiments and the principles embraced in that charter of the Government. The preservation of the Union has been, from entrance into public life, one of my cardinal tenets. At the very incipiency of this rebellion I set my face against the dissolution of the Union of the States. I do not make this allusion for the purpose of bringing up anything which has transpired which may be regarded as of an unkind or unpleasant character, but I believed then, as I believe now, and as you have most unmistakably indicated, that the security and the protection of the rights of all the people were to be found in the Union; that we were certainly safer in the Union than we were out of it.

Upon this conviction I based my opposition to the efforts which were made to destroy the Union. I have continued those efforts, notwithstanding the perils through which I have passed, and you are not unaware that the trial has been a severe one. When opposition to the Government came from one section of the country, and that the section in which my life has been passed, and with which my interests were identified, I stood, as I stand now, contending for the Union and asseverating that the best and surest way to obtain our rights and to protect our interests, was to remain in the Union, under the protection of the Constitution.

The ordeal through which we have passed during the last four or five years demonstrates most conclusively that that opposition was right; and to-day, after the experiment has been made and has failed; after the demonstration has been most conclusively afforded that this Union cannot be dissolved, that it was not designed to be dissolved, it is extremely gratifying to me to meet gentlemen as intelligent and as responsible as yourselves, who are willing and anxious to accept and do accept the terms laid down in the Constitution and obedience to the laws made in pursuance thereof.

We were at one period separated; the separation was to me painful in the extreme; but now after having gone through a struggle in which the powers of the Government have been tried, when we have swung around to a point at which we meet to agree and are willing to unite our efforts for the preservation of the Government, which I believe is the best in the world, it is exceedingly gratifying to me to meet you to-day, standing upon common ground, rallying around the Constitution and the Union of these States, the preservation of which, as I conscientiously and honestly believe, will result in the promotion and the advancement of this people.

I repeat, I am gratified to meet you to-day, expressing the principles and announcing the sentiments to which you have given utterance, and I trust that the occasion will long be remembered. I have no doubt that your intention is to carry out and comply with every single principle laid down in the resolutions you have submitted. I know that some are distrustful; but I am of those who have confidence in the judgment, in the integrity, in the intelligence, in the virtue of the great mass of the American people, and having such confidence, I am willing to trust them, and I thank God that we have not yet reached that point where we have lost all confidence in each other.

The spirit of the government can only be preserved, we can only become prosperous and great as a people, by mutual forbearance and confidence. Upon that faith and that confidence alone can the government be successfully carried on.

On the cardinal principles of representation to which you refer, I will make a single remark. That principle is inherent; it constitutes one of the fundamental elements of the government. The representatives of the States and of the people should have the qualifications prescribed by the Constitution of the United States, and those qualifications must unquestionably imply loyalty. He who comes as a representative, having the qualifications prescribed by the Constitution to fit him to take a seat in either of the deliberative bodies, which constitute the National Legislature, must necessarily, according to the intendment of the Constitution, be a loyal man, willing to abide by and be devoted to the Union and the Constitution of the States. He cannot be for the Constitution, he cannot be for the Union, he cannot acknowledge obedidience to all the laws, unless he is loyal. When the people send such men in good faith, they are entitled to representation through them.

In going into the recent rebellion, or insurrection, against the Government of the United States, we erred; and in returning and resuming our relations with the Federal Government, I am free to say that all the responsible positions and places ought to be confined distinctly and clearly to men who are loyal. If there were only five thousand loyal men in a State or a less number, but sufficient to take charge of the political machinery of the State, those five thousand men, or the lesser number, are entitled to it, if all the rest should be otherwise inclined. I look upon it as being fundamental, that the exercise of political power should be confined to loyal men; and I regard that as implied in the doctrine laid down in these resolutions, and in the eloquent address by which they have been accompanied. I may say, furthermore, that, after having passed through the great struggle in which we have been engaged, we should be placed upon much more acceptable ground in resuming all our relations to the General Government, if we presented men unmistakably and unquestionably loyal to fill the places of power. This being done, I feel that the day is not distant—I speak confidingly in reference to the great mass of the American people—when they will determine that this Union shall be made whole, and the great right of representation in the councils of the nation be acknowledged.

Gentlemen, that is a fundamental principle. "No taxation without representation" was one of the principles which carried us through the Revolution. The great principle will hold good yet; and if we but perform our duty, if we but comply with the spirit of the resolutions presented to me to-day, the American people will maintain and sustain the great doctrines upon which the Government was inaugurated. It can be done, and it will be done; and I think that if the report be fairly and fully made, with forbearance and with prudence, and with discretion and with wisdom, the end is not very far distant.

It seems to me apparent that from every consideration the best policy which could be adopted at present would be a restoration of these States and of the Government upon correct principles. We have some foreign difficulties, but the moment it can be announced that the Union of the States is again complete, that we have resumed our career of prosperity and greatness, at that very instant, almost, all our foreign difficulties will be settled, for there is no Power upon the earth which will care to have a controversy or a rupture with the Government of the United States under such circumstances.

If these States be fully restored, the area for the circulation of the national currency, which is thought by some to be inflated to a very great extent, will be enlarged, the number of persons through whose hands it is to pass will be increased, the quantity of commerce in which it is to be employed as a medium of exchange will be enlarged; and then it will begin to approximate, what we all desire, a specie standard. If all the States were restored, it peace and order reigned throughout the land, and all the industrial pursuits, all the avocations of peace were again resumed, the day would not be very far distant when we could put into the commerce of the world two hundred and fifty or three hundred million dollars worth of cotton and tobacco, and the various products of the Southern States, which would constitute in part a basis of this currency.

Then, instead of the cone being inverted, we should reverse the position and put the base at the bottom, as it ought to be; and the currency of the country will rest on a sound and enduring basis; and surely that is a result which is calculated to promote the interests not only of one section, but of the whole country, from one extremity to the other. Indeed, I look upon the restoration of these States as being indispensable to all our greatness.

Gentlemen, I know nothing further that I could say in the expression of my feelings on this occasion—and they are not affected—more than to add that I shall continue in the same line of policy which I have pursued from the commencement of the rebellion to the present period. My efforts have been to preserve the Union of the States. I never, for a single moment, entertained the opinion that a State could withdraw from the Union of its own will. That attempt was made. It has failed. I continue to pursue the same line of policy which has been my constant guide. I was against dissolution. Dissolution was attempted—it has failed—and now I cannot take the position that a State which attempted to secede is out of the Union, when I contended all the time that it could not go out, and that it has never been out. I cannot be forced into that position.—Hence, when the States and their people shall have complied with the requirements of the Government, I shall be in favor of their resuming their former relations to this Government in all respects.

I do not intend to say anything personal, but you know as well as I do that at the beginning, and, indeed, before the beginning of the recent gigantic struggle between the different sections of the country, there were extreme men South, and there were extreme men North. I might make use of a homely figure (which is sometimes as good as any other, even in the illustration of great and important questions, and say that it has been hammer at one end of the line and anvil at the other; and this great Government, the best the world ever saw, was kept upon the anvil and hammered before the rebellion, and it has been hammered since the rebellion; and there seems to be a disposition to continue the hammering until the Government shall be destroyed. I have opposed that system always, and I oppose it now.

The Government, in the assertion of its powers, and in the maintenance of the principles of the Constitution, has taken hold of one extreme, and with the strong arm of physical power has put down the rebellion. Now, as we swing around the circle of the Union with a fixed and unalterable determination to stand by it, if we find the counterpart or the duplicate of the same spirit that played to this feeling and these persons in the South, this other extreme which stands in the way must get out of it, and the Government must stand unshaken and unmoved on its basis. The Government must be preserved.

I will only say, in conclusion, that I hope all the people of this country, in good faith and in the fullness of their hearts, will, upon the principles you have enunciated here to-day, of the maintenance of the Constitution and the preservation of the Union, lay aside every other feeling for the good of our common country, and with uplifted faces to heaven swear that our gods and our altars and all shall sink in the dust together rather than this glorious Union shall not be preserved. (Great applause.)

I am gratified to find the loyal sentiment of the country developing and manifesting itself in these expressions; and now the attempt to destroy the Government has failed at one end of the line, I trust we shall go on determined to preserve the Union in its original purity against all opposers.

I thank you, gentlemen, for the compliment you have paid me, and I respond most cordially to what has been said in your resolutions and address, and I trust in God the time will soon come when we can meet under more favorable auspices than we do now.

Mr. Baldwin—Mr. President, as an assurance that we represent the sentiment of the State, I beg leave of you to introduce to you the members of the committee and to name the parts of the State from which they come, in order that you may be certified that this is a fair representation of all parts of Virginia. I introduce to you Mr. Keen, the Senator from Pittsylvania; Mr. Joynes, the Delegate from Petersburg; Mr. Carter, Senator from the county of Russell; Mr. Marshall, Delegate from the county of Fauquier; Mr. Gray, Senator from the county of Rockingham; Mr. Pendleton, Delegate from the county of Giles; Mr. Grattan, Delegate from the city of Richmond. We claim this to be a fair and equally distributed representation of the people of Virginia.

The gentlemen named, as their names were mentioned, stepped forward and shook the President by the hand.

The President added: I am happy to meet you, gentlemen. As I said to another delegation the other day, I have no ambition and no object beyond the restoration of this Government. I feel that I am in a condition where I can afford to do right. I have occupied during my career many different posts in this Government. I started at one of the humblest cabins in the country, and I have passed through the State Legislature, the Gubernatorial chair, both Houses of Congress, the Vice-Presidency of the United States, to the position which I now occupy before you. The climax, the acme, the summit of my ambition has been fully reached, yea more than reached. If now, I can only arrive at a point at which these States are all restored, each having its representation in the National councils, with the Union restored so that we can once more proclaim peace and good will among the people of the United States, it will be to me a happy day. I care not what may be said in taunt or jeer; I care not what may be insinuated, but I tell you that whenevever I shall have reached that point, the measure of my ambition will have been filled, and more than filled. I have no object beyond it. Oh, how proud and gratifying it would be to me to retire from this place, feeling and knowing that I had been instrumental in consummating this great end. [Great applause.]

PROSPECTUS.

THE publication of the

The North Carolina Presbyterian

will be resumed in Fayetteville, on Wednesday, the 2nd of January next.

Confidently relying on the hearty support which we have heretofore received, we shall endeavor to render the paper more attractive, both in appearance and matter, than it has ever been, sparing neither pains or expense in the accomplishment of this purpose.

With the passing away of old things, a new spirit of activity, energy and enterprise, has been infused into every department of secular thought and business. Why should not the Church, also, partake of the progressive advancement? Why should she, of all the agencies brought to bear with such tremendous force upon the civilization of the present time, be inefficient, laggard and almost hopeless in the working out of her own destiny?

To arouse the church to the importance and necessity of work; of unceasing, restless, tireless energy in the service of her Master and Head; this shall be our first and chiefest aim In this we need assistance. We are not, alone, sufficient for these things. Our brethren must help us in every way; by contributions from their own stores of thought and study; by zealous co-operation in a common cause, for the benefit of all; by extending our circulation throughout all our borders, and thus giving us the means and the opportunity of performing well the work to which we have consecrated all that we have, and all we hope for on earth.

Coe's Super-Phosphate of Lime,

OR

BONE MANURE.

WARRANTED GENUINE.

BEING MADE OF THE BEST MATERIAL AND in the most approved manner, it is recommended to the public as superior to any other in the market. All who have used it speak of it in the highest terms of praise, and those engaged in its manufacture will continue their best endeavors to advance the high reputation which it has acquired.

We guarantee the Phosphate to be well manufactured, and recommend it in preference to any other artificial manure in the market. We consider it nearly equal to the best Peruvian Guano, although furnished at half the price.

Messrs B H. Allen & Co., the well known manufacturers of agricultural implements, say of it:

"We take pleasure in stating that we have sold E F Coe's Super Phosphate of Lime for four years.—It has given universal satisfaction to our customers. We most cheerfully endorse it as an article worthy of the confidence of the public, as the purchaser may rely upon securing an article honestly and carefully manufactured.

"We would state that, after careful examination we believe this Phosphate has been improved each year since its introduction in this market, and that it will continue to maintain its present high standing.

"Very respectfully,

HAMPSHIRE COAL.

CARGO OF 375 TONS HAMPSHIRE COAL DAily expected from Baltimore.

This coal is bituminous, and perhaps the best coal known for steam purposes, whether for locomotives or steamboats. It is used almost exclusively by Northern railroad companies and the Cunard Steamers. It is also represented as the best blacksmith's coal in the country, and is very extensively used in iron works for forging, etc. It is soft and friable, the fine coal being as good for use as the lump.

The attention of railroad companies, iron works and machine shops, is particularly invited to the importance of a trial of this coal.

The undersigned having been appointed agent for the Hampshire and Baltimore Coal Company, will be prepared to furnish any quantity required, at a reasonable price.

Orders respectfully solicited.

PROSPECTUS

COSMOPOLITE.

ON THE FIRST OF JANUARY WE WILL commence the publication, in the City of Baltimore, of a monthly Literary Magazine.

There is no publication of this character now issued South of New York City, and the closing of the war has left a large portion of the people of the country without a literary representative.

The COSMOPOLITE will be devoted to Literature, Art, Reviews, Scientific Papers and General Reading, and we shall number among its contributors some of the first literary men of the South, with others from the North and from London and Paris.

All matter not original will be carefully selected from the newest and best of the English, French and German publications; and its Editors will prepare no effort or expense to make it rank with the VERY FIRST magazines of the country.

As its name imports, we have established the COSMOPOLITE upon a sectional basis. We hope to make it the organ of general literature alone; and will be uninfluenced by any party or clique whatever.

It will be mailed to subscribers in any part of the country upon receipt of the following

Subscription:

Single Copies, for one year,	$4 00
Five Copies for one year,	18 00
Ten copies for one year,	33 00

☞ The COSMOPOLITE will be generally distributed among the Merchants and Planters of the South, and we will add, for their information, a few advertisements, at moderate rates

☞ Liberal deductions will be made to booksellers and newsdealers.

☞ Newspapers publishing this prospectus and sending a marked copy to the undersigned, will receive a copy of the magazine. Address

Our terms are invariably in advance. The Weekly and Semi-weekly will be issued about the first of January. Money may be sent us by the Rail Road conductors or the Express Companies.

Salaries and Fees.

This is no time for waste or needless expenditure of the public funds. There should be the strictest economy in the fixing of salaries and in the disbursement of the public money; but legislators should study to be just and consistent in whatever they do, avoiding waste on the one hand and parsimony on the other.

We are in favor of securing the very best officers the State can furnish for the public business, and paying them what the services of such men ought to claim. No man ought to be asked to fill a public office, if the State is too poor to pay what is just and right, unless it is at first understood, that his services are to be a gratuity. Nor is it wise or becoming to adapt the men to the pay, but the pay to the men.

We learn that the House on yesterday used the dissecting knife unmercifully upon, the bill from the committee on Salaries and Fees, introduced by Mr. McAden, the chairman. The bill had been carefully pondered, and we presume the committee had taken special pains, to adapt the salaries and fees as nearly as possible to the times, and the claims of the several officers.

The attack upon the bill seemed to be unwontedly fierce, leaving not a single recommendation of the committee untouched. So far as we can judge, there was scarcely a recommendation which came up to the present high prices of living, and perhaps few, if any of the recommendations, which should have been reduced. We regret the spirit manifested on the occasion.

The course of those who were in favor of cutting down the salaries, presented a wide contrast when the chairman of the committee demanded of them to reduce their own pay. Every attempt to feed them out of the same spoon was rejected, although the plea of the poverty of the State was urgently pressed. The House would save to the State about $8000 by the reduction of salaries, but positively refused to reduce their own pay, in order to save $30,000 to the State. The rule must work both ways; if one class of State officers is to be cut down, why not the rest?

The State Credit.

Nothing can more deeply afflict the true sons of the State, than her failure to maintain her integrity. Yet no one who has not made himself intimately acquainted with the condition of our people, can have any conception of their poverty or inability to raise money.

The subject of paying the State interest on the coupons due and falling due, is exciting the deepest interest not only at home but abroad.

A financial friend living in another State has written us a letter upon the subject, in which he makes some important suggestions, which our space to-day prevents our giving them to our readers. We shall call up the subject at a future day.

We agree with the Standard that the Douglas democrats of the northwest have been and are now the friends of the Union, but there are but few left there of the Vallandigham stripe. The copperhead democracy of the North, that threw every obstacle possible in the way of the government in its efforts to suppress the rebellion, and whose sympathies were all the time with the secessionists, are quite as bad and as much the enemies of the Union as those who took up arms to overthrow it.—Progress.

We were neither a Douglas nor a Breckinridge Democrat in 1860, nor are we the apologists of the Vallandigham or copperhead Democrats of the North, but we will be obliged to the Progress to point out any act or expression of the copperhead or any kind of Democrats of the North, that goes to show that they are now enemies of the Union or opposed to the early restoration of the Southern States. If it be so, that they are opposed to President Johnson's policy and to the Union, it has escaped our notice.

President Johnson's Address.

We have placed on our first page the admirable talk of President Johnson to the Virginia delegation. If we can judge by the outward appearance, there is a chasm between the President and the Radical members of the Republican party, as wide as the poles. How they can be harmonised is a problem which we are anxious to see solved, or the ligament which binds them out asunder. The conflict between the Constitution and peace and right on the one hand, and the will of a bitter, unrelenting, dominant majority on the other, is commenced. The President stands by the Constitution, and we trust he will triumph.

"Soldiers."

The Progress contains a Query, signed by "Soldiers," asking us to tell him which is the white regiment spoken of in an item in the Sentinel on Tuesday.

The paragraph alluded to was copied from an exchange and seems to be a dispatch from the Press Agent at Wilmington. Whether the information therein contained is correct or not, we have no means of knowing. The only regiment we have seen specially alluded to in the papers, recently, is the 28th Michigan regiment, which we presume is a white one. Is it not?—[ED. SENTINEL.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 14.

The Senate was called to order at 10 o'clock A. M.

Mr. Arendell, from the committee on Corporations to whom was referred the bill to incorporate the Planters Loan Association, reported back the same recommending that it do not pass. Bill to incorporate the Richland Female Academy, recommended that it do pass. Bill to incorporate the Rock Island Manufacturing Company, in Mecklenburg county, recommending an amendment and its passage. Bill to incorporate the trustees of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States, ecommending its passage.

Mr. Gash introduced a resolution on the subject of taxation, which was referred to the committee on Finance.

Message from the House transmitting their concurrence in additional names for Justices of the Peace for the county of Hyde.

Mr. Shober introduced a bill to amend the Charter of the town of Salisbury. Passed its first reading.

The bill to extend the time to widows to enter their dissent to the last will and testament of their husbands, came up on its third reading and passed.

The bill to incorporate the Macon county Turnpike Company came up, and on motion of Mr Keener, the rules were suspended and it passed its final reading.

A message from the House transmitting the following bills, which was disposed of as follows, viz:

Bill to establish the board of commissioners of Navigation; bill to amend the incorporation of the town of Graham in the county of Alamance; bill for the better regulation of the government of the town of Beaufort; bill to incorporate the Rudison Gold Mining Company, in Mecklenburg county; bill for the better regulation of the town of Jacksonville; and bill to incorporate the Bladen Land Company, all of which, on motion of Mr. Leitch, were referred to the Committee on Corporations.

Mr. Leitch made an explanation in regard to the absence of Mr. Leach of Davidson, which is owing to sickness in his family.

Mr. Cowles offered additional names for Justices of the Peace for Yadkin county, which was sent to the House for concurrence.

Leave of absence was granted Mr. Boyd, Senator from Moore and Montgomery, until Monday next.

Message from the House disagreeing to the additional names for magistrates for Yadkin county.

The bill to declare valid certain elections and acts since May 20th, 1861, came up, was read a second time and was rejected.

The bill giving further security to widows for a years provisions, came up, read a second time and rejected.

The resolution in favor of the Old Dominion Trading Company came up, and was discussed at some length, but in order to give the subject further consideration on motion of Mr. McKoy, it was made the special order for to-morrow at 12 o'clock.

Mr. McKoy offered a resolution requesting the Speaker to issue a writ of election, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of the late I. N. Sanders, Senator elect for Onslow County, to be held on the 1st. Thursday in March, being the 1st. day of March 1866.—Adopted.

Messrs. McKoy and Latham were granted leave of absence until Tuesday next.

On motion of Mr. Bogle, the Senate adjourned until to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 14th, 1866.

The House was called to order at ten o'clock, A. M.

Mr. Speaker Phillips in the Chair.

The journal of yesterday was read and approved.

Mr. Waugh, for the joint select committee reported back "the bill to consolidate the acts in relation to the courts," recommending that it do not pass.

Mr. Murphy introduced a resolution in relation to the relief of Administrators, Executors, Guardians and Trustees who received Confederate money or invested in Confederate Bonds. Requests inquiry by the Committee on the Judiciary. Adopted.

Mr. Ferrell, a resolution in favor of Charles Kuester & Brother. Referred.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

Mr. Cowan introduced a bill to incorporate the inhabitants of the town of Wilmington.

Mr. Trull, a bill to authorize Culpepper Austin, Sheriff of Union county, to collect arrears of taxes.

Mr. Webb, a bill to incorporate the trustees of "Little River Select School" in the county of Orange.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The resolution introduced by Mr. Blythe on yesterday, that the House of Commons hold Evening Sessions, daily meeting at seven o'clock, P. M., was rejelted.

ON CALENDAR.

The bill to regulate Salaries and Fees, was put on its second reading. [The bill as reported from the Joint Select Committee on Salaries and Fees, fixes the salaries of Public officers as follows:

The Governor of the State, four thousand dollars; a Counsellor of State, six dollars per day for every day he may attend on public business, and twenty cents for every mile he may travel to and from the capitol on public business; the Judges of the Supreme and Superior Courts, twenty-five hundred dollars, and for every extra term of the Superior Court which a Judge may hold, one hundred dollars, and that one week shall constitute a term; Public Treasurer, twenty-five hundred dollars; Chief Clerk of the Treasurer, fifteen hundred dollars: Secretary of State, one thousand dollars and fees, and fees allowed in chapter 102, Revised Code. Private Secretary of the Governor, one thousand dollars, and double the fees allowed in chapter 105, Revised Code; Attorney General, one hundred dollars for his attendance on each regular term of the Supreme Court, and thirty dollars for each term of the Superior Court of any county he shall attend, and fifty per cent. in addition to fees allowed in chapter 102, Revised Code; each Solicitor of the State, thirty dollars for every term of the Superior Court he shall attend, and fifty per cent. in addition to fees allowed in chapter 102, Revised Code; Reporter of the decisions of the Supreme Court, one thousand dollars, and fees allowed in chapter 102, Revised Code; the Messenger in Governor's office, five hundred dollars.

Mr. McNair opposed the bill, deeming any increase of the salaries of public officers, at the present time impolitic and unnecessary. It appeared to be intended merely, or mainly to benefit public officers resident in the city of Raleigh. The bill did not increase the pay of Clerks of Courts, and other officers who as much deserved such increase.

Mr. McAden defended the bill at length.

Mr. Henry opposed the bill as unequal in its provisions.

Mr. Blackmer moved to amend the bill by fixing the salary of private Secretary of the Governor at $1,800 per annum.

Mr. Baxter offered a substitute for the bill—fixing the Governor's salary at $4,000 leaving the other salaries as at present.

Mr. Hoke was in favor of reducing the salaries of the Governor and Judges proposed in the bill, deeming the former salaries adequate.

Mr. Dargan addressed the House in favor of the bill.

The question recurring on the substitute proposed by Mr. Baxter, it was rejected.

The question then recurred upon the amendment proposed by Mr. Blackmer, increasing the salary of private Secretary to $1,800.

Mr. Rayner opposed the bill. He was willing that the salaries of Judges of the Superior Courts should be increased to $2,500 per annum, but thought the other salaries should remain as they are.

The amendment was rejected—yeas 3; nays 95.

Mr. Hoke moved to amend the bill by fixing the Governor's salary at $3,000 instead of $4,000. Adopted—yeas 70; nays 32.

Mr. McAden moved to amend the bill by inserting a provision fixing the per diem of members of the Legislature at $3 and their mileage at 10 cents a mile.

Mr. Blackmer moved to amend the amendment by substituting $1 per diem for members of the Legislature instead of $3. Rejected.

The question recurring on Mr. McAden's amendment, Mr. Dargan moved to amend by adding the following proviso: "Provided that those members of the General Assembly who have overdrawn at these reduced rates shall have ninety days in which to refund.

Mr. Farrow moved an indefinite postponment of the bill. Not agreed to.

Mr. Dargan's amendment to the amendment was rejected.

Mr. Murphy moved to amend the amendment by substituting $5 per diem in lieu of $3. Not agreed to. Mr. McAden's amendment was then rejected.

The following amendment offered by Mr. Smith of Hertford was adopted. "The councillors of State shall receive the same compensation which is allowed to a member of the General Assembly for every day he may attend on public business, and for every thirty miles travelling to and from the city of Raleigh on public business."

Mr. Rayner moved to amend by striking out that provision of the bill which allows Judges of the Superior Courts $100 extra compensation for holding extra terms of court. Adopted.

Mr. Hoke moved to amend by fixing the salary of Judges of the Superior Courts at $2,250.

Mr. Caldwell moved to amend the amendment by fixing the salary of Judges of the Superior Courts at $100 for each term they may hold, one week constituting a term. Rejected.

The question recurring on the amendment, it was rejected.

Mr. McNair moved to strike out "$2,500" as the salary of the Public Treasurer, and substitute $2,000.

Adopted, yeas 52; nays 39.

Mr. Rayner moved to amend by substituting $1,000 for $1,500 as the salary of Chief Clerk of the Treasurer. Adopted.

Mr. Marler moved to amend by substituting $1,500 for $1,000 as salary of Secretary of State. Rejected.

Mr. Jenkins, of Warren, moved to amend by substituting $500 instead of $1000 as salary of Private Secretary to the Governor. Adopted.

Mr. Rayner moved to amend the bill by striking out the provision allowing the Governor's Private Secretary double fees. Adopted.

Mr. Hoke moved to amend the clause in relation to the Attorney General and Solicitors by striking out $30 for each court they attend and substitute $20. Adopted.

Mr. Dickey moved to amend by striking out the proposed addition of "fifty per cent" to the fees of Attorney General and solicitors.

Mr. Dickey withdrew this amendment and Mr. Marler renewed it. Adopted.

Mr. Rayner moved to strike out $1,000 and insert $600 as the salary of Supreme Court Reporter. Adopted.

Mr. Rayner moved to strike out the last clause of the bill giving a salary of $500 to the Governor's messenger.

Mr. Smith, of Hertford, moved to amend that part of the bill which relates to Solicitors, by providing "that in cases of acquittal by the jury, the fees which would have been respectively taxed on conviction against the defendant, shall be paid by the county to such solicitor."

Pending a further consideration of the bill and amendments, the House adjourned until to-morrow 10 o'clock A. M.

[The Reporter omitted inadvertently on yesterday to state, that Mr. Holderby introduced a resolution authorizing the Public Treasurer to pay the travelling expenses to and from Raleigh and their places of residence, of disabled soldiers applying for artificial limbs. The resolution was referred to the Finance committee.]

GENERAL NEWS.

THE SMALL POX AGAIN.—We have at last found out something about the small pox. Our clever young townsman, Dr. Thomas F. Wood, informs us that there are now about one hundred and fifty cases in the town and suburbs, and about three-fourths of them are confined to refugee freedmen. But few of the residents proper, whether whites or negroes, have had the disease, the former being almost entirely exempt.—Wil. Dispatch.

The native cotton crop in China is a failure.

Horace Greely has been elected President of the American Institute.

There is a lump of gold in Washington, dug from the Montana mines, worth $17,800.

The people of Danville have purchased a new fire engine, with hose and all the requisite appurtenances.

The iron manufacturers of Pittsburgh have been compelled, as stated by them, to reduce the wages of journeymen on account of the great decrease of business. Many of the workmen have refused to work on the lower wages, and some of the mills have temporarily stopped.

A Bostonian is said to have invested fifty thousand dollars in a patent for a cotton picker, recently produced by a citizen of Tennessee.

The custom receipts at New Orleans for January were $600,000, the largest amount yet collected at that port in the same time.

We learn from a Washington correspondent of the Wilmington Herald, that Maj. Wickersham, of the Freedmen's Bureau for the Wilmington (N. C.) district, has arrived there, and gives a very favorable condition of affairs in his baliwick. So far North Carolina appears in a more favorable light before the reconstruction committee than any other State.—Wil. Journal.

REMARKS OF COL. McKOY, OF SAMPSON,

In the Senate, upon the repeal of the law forbidding the making of mortgages.

MR. SPEAKER:—The bill now under consideration may be well classed with the more important bills of the session, and may be safely set down as the most important. It is one by which vitality in a business way is to be restored, and without which, those interests so dear to us embracing all and every kind of trade, either by the commercial man or the farmer of the country, must languish and die.

Mr. Speaker, the section of country which I have the honor to represent having been visited by the invader, and its treasures and its comforts having become the spoil of Federal soldiers, we have been changed, as it were from a thrifty, frugal and enterprising people, into one without means to supply in full the necessary comforts for our wives and children. The track through which the enterprising soldier from Massachusetts and the rough Hoozier, from Indiana and Illinois, have passed with full liberty to appropriate all that may fall into their possession, from the hoarded coffer to the child's clothing, has been and now is almost as a wild waste, not having

To tell where the garden had been."

The wants of our State, as I believe them, and as the testimony of every Senator will bear me out in saying, are great, and our "need the sorest." In the memory of the oldest inhabitant, there never was such a dearth in the monied market of the State. Men, who were well to do in the world, with means at their command, have by the ravages of war, the destruction of currency and the general desolation of the land, suddenly become so poor that their names are no guarantee for the payment of trifling sums, either for themselves or as surety for their neighbors.

Public confidence has for the time been swept away, and without the means to work their farm or to trade with, energetic, thrifty, honest and industrious men are left as idle drones, or perhaps cultivating as much of their lands as can be with their individual labor. The large farms of our State are growing up and going to waste for the want of labor. Labor can not be obtained without money, and the question may well be asked, why not pledge the lands to borrow money, and thus revive again the energy and industry of the country? The answer is made, I tried so to do and was told that the Legislature of North Carolina had forbidden that, by express enactment. The lender says, I cannot risk my money upon the uncertainty of personal industry. Thus thwarted the farmer or trader is compelled to sit down in idleness and content himself with the subsistence which he may by wearied and profitless toil, make by his own hands, or he is compelled by the force of circumstances to sell his lands (as the law does not forbid that,) and to turn his back upon the house where he was born, the grove through which in childish sport he was wont to roam, and blinded by tears, crush out from his unhappy thoughts as he wanders forth, houseless and homeless, the recollection of all those hallowed recollections which cluster around that dear place. Imagine Mr. Speaker, the feelings of a proud old Indian, the pet of his brothers and the honored Sachem of his tribe, when bidding adieu to the hunting grounds of his fathers, and you have some idea of the Anglo Saxon, parting with the old homestead of his family and the spot where his friends lie buried.

The cold calculating mind may think this weighs but little in the discussion of the subject. But to my mind the dearest thoughts of life cluster around and cling to the spot of my birth. 'Tis said that the surest way to rid yourself of your home is to mortgage it to some Shylock, who will ere long demand his pound of flesh, yea, will take it nearest the heart. This might be an argument in ordinary times, and might have a show of reason on its side. But I ask, how do matters stand to-day; I put the question in all honesty, and claim an answer candid and fair. When this answer comes, it will be, that the people of North Carolina are as a mass hopelessly bankrupt, and were they this day compelled to wind up they could not pay their indebtedness. Not because their indebtedness is so great, but for the want of money. Enforce the law as it now stands, and fettered as they will be by it, they will grow worse and worse, and when the day of reckoning comes, they will be without one cent to pay those creditors whose dearest interests the opponents of this measure now are so much exercised over. Mr. Speaker, fortunately, I represent on this floor neither the dishonest debtors represented by one of the opponents of this measure, nor the Shylock creditors described by another, who, in his language, "would, should this measure pass, prey upon the poor debtor, as would vultures upon a carcass, until he would make an assignment for their benefit." It is my good fortune to represent an honest, upright, fair and liberal minded constituency, characterized by impulses, generous and liberal, and a class of creditors who are willing to heed the wants of honest debtors, believing that they will by industry and energy retrieve their fallen fortunes, and when thus mended, will enable them to pay their indebtedness to the full extent. A class of debtors intending to discharge their liabilities whenever the means can be honestly gained. When I speak thus, I want to be understood as intending that a large majority are so, and not claiming for my people entire exemption from all the foibles of human nature. The land of the country, the only available basis whereon money can be raised, is, by the present statute so fettered and hedged about, that it is impossible to realize money short of a sale. Sales will be made, and ere two years elapse the face of the population of North Carolina will be changed, and a population now found throughout the world as honest, industrious, moral and frugal, will give way to one that may be more enterprizing,—yet want many of the virtues of the native born North Carolinian. And in using this argument, let me be understood. Let no man say that I oppose the emigration to this State of worthy emigrants—from any land. No sir, let them come, there is room enough, and to spare. But, if their coming be to displace worthy men of my own State, I desire not their coming. Though she may by "scorners and witlings" have been "sneered" at and "defamed," yet, thank God, she has never been disgraced by the free choice of her own people. Though poor she is—yet honest; and though she may be insolvent, she is not a willing repudiator. In other days and after years, history will do her full justice, and then she will occupy no mean position in the eyes of the world. But I do earnestly beg Senators, not to check the energies and rising determination of our citizens to start afresh on the road to prosperity and wealth.

Among my early teachings, I imbibed one notion which I believe yet to be a true one, and that is if you desired the rich to grow richer and the poor to grow poorer, fetter property so as to deny to the masses the right to acquire. Ours has ever been a commercial and a trading people. The early demand for the cutting off of entails opened the doors to the industry and energy of the nation, and from that day to this one of the principles of our legislation, both judicial and legislative, has been to unloose the fetters; trust to the honesty and good sense of the people and all will be well. And is it to be said, that the masses of North Carolina are to be kept penniless and cramped, for fear some few dishonest men may seek to defraud some unsuspecting creditor? Will Senators allow me to make one prediction, and it is this: no man will mortgage his property if the law is repealed, except the energetic man who chafes and frets under his indebtedness, and honestly desires to enable himself to pay off his liabilities. Is not this so? Scrutinize the matter closely, and see if the dishonest debtor, with the stay law at his back, is not in as safe a position as he for the present desires to be. And should he desire to defraud his creditors, can he not now sell his land and place it beyond their reach, and with the money in his pocket, go to some distant place beyond his creditors reach. Then, the only effect of retaining this law, is to prevent the honest man from directing his energies aright, while dishonesty is still at a premium in the markets of North Carolina.

There is another view of this subject, which strikes my mind with more force than either of the others. It is that an entire change, from the results of the war, has taken place, not only in North Carolina, but throughout the entire South. Our farms, before the war too small to accommodate the labor then at the command of the farmer and planter, have, by the entire change in the labor system, been left too large, and from the force of the circumstances, the owners will be compelled to divide them into small freeholds and put them upon the market. Altho' it would be pleasant still to survey his broad acres, yet the owner feels that the burden of taxation would be too heavy for him to bear up under. And though he may have all that tenacity for land peculiar to his race, yet interest, that all-controlling principle of this world, if not the force of circumstances, compel him to offer his land in the market. Repeal this act, and the thrifty neighbor, a North Carolinian by birth and education, honest and industrious, may become the possessor thereof. Having money enough to induce the trade, he may by mortgage upon the land, for the payment of the balance of the purchase money, secure the title, and thereby remain in the land of his birth among the people he loves. Keep this law upon your statute book, and you drive him forth among strangers, far from all he holds most dear, to battle with fortune and the world. And for what? To give place to strangers and fortune hunters, who come for gain, knowing nothing about, and caring less for the institutions of the State. Can we be prosperous, can we be happy, if we permit ourselves to be prompted by such callous indifference to our brothers in misfortune? It strikes me that there is still enough good feeling left in the State to forbid such a turn in our affairs; that North Carolinians feel more kindly toward North Carolinians; that common misfortune has softened our natures, and not steeled our hearts against the cries of agony, woe and despair. I would to-day think less of my State if I could believe there was one Senator on this floor, whose pride of State would not indignantly repel the idea of driving out the sons of North Carolina, to give place to a population, though it may be thrifty and tax-paying, imported from abroad. I would say, you degenerate son of a noble sire, cease to disgrace the councils of your State; retire to some solitary place, and there study the imprecation of the poet upon the head of him,

"Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my native land."

Mr. Speaker, we are now passing through the slough of despondency, and all that can be done to cheer, and comfort, should be the mission of each and every one. I hold these views, and believe they will accord with the general prosperity of the country. While to the whole human family, I would be kind, yet my first duty is due to my neighbor. I come not here to legislate away the rights of the creditor, nor do I believe this bill would eventually damage his claims, but on the other hand I honestly believe that his interest would be thereby advanced. As the matter now stands it will be ruin to both debtor and creditor engendering mutual distrust, and dislike. With the change comes a fair hope for the revival of energy and industry, in whose train again will follow prosperity and wealth. By some this measure has been denounced as an attack upon the "stay law."—But if this is so I confess to utter blindness in the matter, for in it I can discern no attack upon that very necessary, and wholesome law neither open or covert. Were this so, I would change my ground and oppose this measure, holding as I now do that the stay law is the only salvation of the country in its present ruined and impoverished condition.

Then let Senators reflect, and whatever may be the action of the Senate on the bill in its present shape, let them not leave for their homes, without unfettering the lands of the country so as to make them available in a financial way. I hold that with the exception of the plan proposed by the Chairman of the Committee of Finance, there can be but one way of procuring banking facilities for the people of North Carolina, and that is upon the faith of our lands.

Prevent this and the taxes both State and Federal, will soon sweep away the entire titles thereof and poverty, misery, and woe follow in the train.

As one by one the unfortunate people of North Carolina are driven from their native State, by the operation of the law as it now exists, can Senators face them and say that "I did it." If so would not the withering look of those unfortunate men strike like a dagger to their hearts, and make them exclaim in anguish, would that I had seen this before. The creditors note is not the shelter that protects him from the rain like this poor mans roof of which I have stripped him, and his family. I feared to wrong the one. But alas I have greivously wronged the other. And by my mad policy all is lost to both debtor and creditor.

Dissolution of Copartnership.

THE firm heretofore known as that of Baker, Cowper & Co has this day been dissolved by mutual consent. The duties devolving on one of the partners as Cashier of the Bank of Cape Fear, and the removal of the other to Norfolk (his residence before the war) for the purpose of practicing law, have caused this dissolution. The business will be continued by Mr. Pulaski Cowper and Mr James A. Moore, late Teller of the Bank of Cape Fear, under the name and style of Cowper & Moore, who will settle up the business of Baker, Cowper & Co.

NOTICE.

I SHALL offer for sale, at public auction, on Tuesday, 20th of February next, the farm on which I now reside, situated partly in Nash, and partly in Edgecombe Counties, N. C. This farm contains nine hundred and seventy-five acres, of which one-third is in a high state of cultivation and well adapted to the growth of cotton, corn and oats. The other portion is well timbered and peculiarly valuable on account of the growing demand for lumber in the vicinity.

I will sell, at the same time, my stock of all kinds, including Horses, Mules, Cows and Calves, Sheep, Sows and Pigs, and all of good breeds.

—ALSO—

five hundred barrels of Corn, a large quantity of Fodder and Shucks, farming Utensils of all kinds, Wagons and Carts, a fine collection of Carpenters' Tools, and about twenty thousand pounds of Pork already killed and salted.

All this property will be sold under the hammer of Mr. J. J. Alston, well known as an accomplished auctioneer.

This property is peculiarly valuable, from the fact that it is within easy access of the Wilmington and Weldon Rail Road, being only three miles from one station and six from another. Location remarkably healthy.

Terms made known on day of sale.

Garden Seeds.

We are greatly indebted to a friend for a handsome variety of excellent garden seeds from the department of agriculture, in the Patent Office at Washington City. We shall endeavor to give them a fair trial, and if they prove to be as good as we expect, we shall distribute them among our friends.

NATIONAL PRIMER.—We are indebted to Messrs. W. B. Smith & Co., for this excellent primary book for children, which they have on hand for sale. They are publishing this with other works.

Mrs. Ball's Trial.

This trial was continued on yesterday. We compile from the Standard's report, omitting what would be of no interest to the general reader:

"The Court met at 10 o'clock. All the members present.

Martha Scott, a colored girl, seventeen years of age, living at Mrs. Ball's at the time of the killing, testified, that she saw Jim coming into the yard, and heard Mrs. Ball tell him to go back, but he kept coming, Wm. Hendrick with him. She told him if he came she would shoot him, and that she had sent him word two or three times not to come, and she asked him what he had come there for, and Jim replied he had come for no fuss but to get his things.

Mrs. B. asked Hendrick what he came for and he said to read the papers. She then went in the house to get the gun—Jim was standing still when she went in—witness, who was standing at the window, then took her head from the window and saw no more. She heard nothing till the gun fired and then heard Mrs. Ball tell Hendrick to leave or she would have him taken up for bringing Jim there. Witness then went and got Mr. Reavis and his son at Mrs. B's. request, who came. In the afternoon there was a large company there. Witness did not recollect how long Jim worked at Mr. Ball's, but left in Christmas week—the day Jim was killed Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Ball's four daughters were there.

In the cross examination, she said, Mr. Ball was not at home that day. She did not see what took place after Mrs. Ball got the gun—heard no scuffling—Jim had one night before gone there, and shoved the door open, but she did not know that Jim had broke the door open. Jim and Hendricks both had guns—the clothes were not there the day Jim came—reckoned that Jim knew they were not there, as he had said Mrs. B. had sent him word they were not.

She knew the fact that Mrs. Ball got Willis Harris, a colored man, to come and guard her house against Jim—Harris staid there two nights Christmas week. Willis Harris was there not long before Jim was killed, and told me to tell Jim not to go in the house, nor have any fuss. Jim was to work for Mr. Ball this year but did not. Witness heard a dispute between Mrs. Ball and Jim the night the clothes were brought there, when he pushed the door open. Witness knew nothing about the contract—Jim had received nothing, was to eat and sleep there—was to work a year from the time he began. Witness knew nothing of Jim's family. He had no wife. She knew that Jim and Mr. Ball had made a contract, as she heard them talking about it, but did not know why Jim did not comply with it.

Capt. Benj. Evans, of the 28th Mich. Inf., and Assist. Supt. of Refugees and Freedmen, was sworn, and testified that the note signed with his name was by his order. Was present when they were signed and delivered to Jim by himself. A question as to the object of the note was objected to. The Captain not having his instructions present, the Court took a short recess for the production of his paper.

On his return, the defence objected to the question, what investigation did he make of the case, &c. Witness never saw the deceased after delivering him the order. Jim had applied to him to get his things and his pay.

Frank Hendrick, a colored man thirty-five years of age, living at Sandry Hendrick's, testified that he loaned Jim the gun on the day he was killed. Jim said he was going to Henderson, and promised to give him a quart of whiskey. He had loaded the gun that day himself. Jim came to Hendricks Friday morning to get Wm. Hendrick to carry the papers to Ball's for him. Jim did not bring him the whiskey. The evidence for the prosecution here closed, and the Court adjourned to 4½ o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

Mr. Sherwood Harris was sworn for the defense. He was at Mrs. Ball's house the day Jim was killed. One of the children came in and told Mrs. Ball that Jim and Hendrick were coming. She went out and told Hendrick twice not to bring the negro into the yard. We were in the kitchen, and I think Jim was one hundred yards off when she said it. I heard no reply, and did not go out of the kitchen. Hendrick was coming up on the north of the house.

I heard the gun fire perhaps ten minutes after. I saw Mrs. B. after the gun fired. She said she acted in self-defence. I did not see Jim after he was shot, but went straight home.

Mrs. Emily C. Lewis was sworn. Judge Advocate objected to the question, did you see Hendrick the Sunday before the killing, &c.—After discussion the question was modified, and witness said, that Hendrick told Mrs. B. that the Yankees were about to leave Raleigh, and that if they would hang Jim up, he'd shoot him. Saw Jim about Christmas. Mrs. Ball told him not to come to her house any more.—He told her that he would go when he d—d pleased and that he'd have revenge. The conversation was at Mrs. B's house and Jim was then in the yard. Witness was no relation of Mrs. B's.

Rebecca Ball was sworn. I am a daughter of Mrs. B. She ordered Hendrick not to come in the yard, but he kept coming. Jim said he was coming after his things and d—d if he didn't have them. He came near and jobbed her in the side with his gun and then ran.

J. W. Wiggins, of Granville, was sworn. He knew Hendrick's character from what he had heard. Would not believe him under oath. I was at Mrs. B.'s the day Jim was killed. I was sent for. Jim lay near the N. E. corner of the house, eight or ten feet off. Saw evidences of a scuffle, in front of the shed room door—the ground was torn up in a circle from the door for some six or eight feet off—the chimney is at the east end of the house—Jim was lying some fifteen feet from the North door—the scuffling could not have been seen from the chimney—I am certain it could not by one if he was behind the chimney.

I know the general character of Mrs. Ball—she is honest, truthful and peaceably disposed, so far as I know or have heard—I do not know the general character of the deceased.

CROSS EXAMINED.

I live two and a half miles from Henderson—I understand a man's character to be what his neighbors say of him—have known Wm. D. Hendrick fifteen years—have not formed my opinion of him from anything I know of him—I could not believe him on his oath from what I have heard of him. Mrs. B. was living where she now lives when I moved to my place two years ago—she had been in the edge of Granville county—was raised in that county—what I have said of her is in regard to her character in that county as well as where she now lives.

[Witness here gave a description of the house and shed room, alluded to in the examination.]

The path comes up towards the house rather from the north east.

DIRECT EXAMINATION RESUMED.

I know Mr. Ball—he is often attacked with paralysis—is a weak and infirm man.

BY THE COURT.

I cannot tell how many men I have heard speak of Hendrick's character, some fifteen or more—I got to Mr. B's about three o'clock the day Jim was killed—there were several persons there; I think, some six or eight.

The Court then adjourned to 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

TOWN ELECTION.—An election was held in this place for Town Magistrate and four Commissioners, on last Friday, which resulted as follows:—Town Magistrate: Col. S. A. Sharpe. Commissioners: E. B. Stimson, J. S. Fleming, J. R. Davidson, E. B. Drake.—Statesville News.

The First National Bank of Danville is now in operation, with a capital of $50,000, under the management of J. F. Fricklin as President, and J. M. Johnston as Cashier.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS,

Are the most perfect purgative which we are able to produce, or which we think has ever yet been made by any body. Their effects have abundantly shown to the community how much they excel the ordinary medicines in use. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart a healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take, and, being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief, were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character, as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliabilities of our remedies, while others have sent us the assurance of their conviction that our Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of our afflicted, suffering fellow men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis our American Almanac, containing directions for the use, and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from an disordered Stomach, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the bowels and pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Diseases which require an evacuant medicine. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations which they make more profit on. Demand AYER'S and take no other. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., and sold by Williams & Haywood, P. F. Pescud, Raleigh, N. C., and Dealers generally.

ADDRESS THE INVENTOR,

B. FRANK. PALMER, LL.D. PRES'T A. A. LIMB. C.E.

These Inventions stand approved as the "best" by the most eminent Scientific and Surgical Societies of the world the inventor having been honored with the award of EIGHTY GOLD AND SILVER MEDALS (or First Prizes) including the Great Medals of the World's Exhibition in London and New York; also the most Honorary Report of the great Society of Surgeons of Paris, giving his Patents place above the ENGLISH AND FRENCH.

Dr. Palmer gives personal attention to the business of his profession aided by men of the best qualifications and greatest experience. He is specially commissioned by the Government and has the patronage of the prominent Officers of the Army and Navy. Six Major Generals and more than a thousand less distinguished officers and soldiers have worn the PALMER LIMBS on active duty while still greater numbers of eminent civilians are, by their aid, filling important positions, and effectually conceal their misfortune.

Advice and Pamphlets Gratis.

To avoid the imposition of Piratical Copyists, apply only to DR. PALMER, as above directed, or to his Agent,

NEW STORE

ON

EAST HARGETT STREET.

T. D. SLEDGE takes this method of informing the public that he has recently had built a Store House at his residence on East Hargett street, south of the Grave Yard, where he would be pleased to see his old friends and customers, as he is now prepared to offer better bargains than is offered elsewhere, not having the heavy expense of renting a house as many have, and having bought my goods recently at very low prices, I am determined not to be undersold, but to sell cheaper than most persons do.

I offer best qualities of Rio Coffee, at 40 cents per lb,
Crushed Sugar, at 30 cents per lb,
Brown Sugar, at 20 cents per lb,
Green Tea, at $2 50 per lb,
Lard, (nice white) at 30 cents per lb,
Molasses, (prime) at 90 cents per gallon.
New Bacon Ham, Shoulders and Middlings. Excellent

Cheese, Pepper,
Ginger, Spice,

North Carolina Map for 1866.

THE Subscriber has, after ten years of toil and experience, prepared this new and beautiful map, from new engravings, with all the new Counties, Rail Roads, Post Offices, with hundreds of additions and corrections, State border views, likeness of President Johnson, Andrew Jackson, J. K. Polk, Govs. Swain, Graham, Vance, &c., altogether presenting a superb Map, worthy of the State and a place in every household, vastly superior to any thing in this line in finish and beauty.

This Map is entirely from new engravings, and is a great improvement on Cooke's & Pearce's old Map.

Beware of Northern humbugs and impositions.

This Map is now ready for printing.

Agents wanted in all parts of the State.

Editors who will copy and notice this advertisement, will be entitled to a proof copy of the Map, by sending paper to me.

Price of the Map, 5 feet by 4, handsomely painted and printed in the best style at the low price of $5 per copy.

LIFE INSURANCE NOTICE.

THE old and well established

Ætna Company, of Hartford,

Offers superior inducements to all who wish to provide for family or friends.

All losses are promptly paid. No case of litigation has ever occurred with this Company. With assetts of $2,300,000, it offers to receive one half of the premium in a note and half in cash, and, after the second year, to credit each customer with the dividends of the Company, which are now 50 per cent. With a small outlay, $5000, or $10,000, or $20,000, may be secured to the family after their earthly providers are taken away. What father or husband would not feel thankful on his dying couch, that he had availed himself of every proper means to place those nearest and dearest to him, abo e the pinchings of want, and a life of dependence upon friends or charity? 8,819 policies have been issued from the office ending Jan. 15, 1866. The total income for the year 1865 was $1,683,339 57; total disbursements $527,805 24, leaving a balance to surplus fund of $1,155,234 33.

In Raleigh, a large number have liberally responded and promptly acted in this matter; yet many delay, and may wait until it is too late. A man in this city lately left his place of business for his evening meal, well and healthy, but never reached that home except as he was carried there to die. Had that man taken the advice of the Agent, he might have left $5000 to minister to the necessities of a sorrowing family. Delays are dangerous, procrastination destructive. But one says, "If I only had confidence in the Company that it would pay, I would insure." Well, it never has failed to pay, and to-day is more responsible than ever before. It is patronized by some of the most sagacious minds in the land—men competent to detect and expose any deception if it existed.

THIS valuable Manure has been before the agricultural public, under one name for twelve years past, and its character for vigor of action and permanence in effect is well established. Before the war, it was introduced, to some extent, in the Southern States; and was found to be highly adapted to Cotton, Tobacco, and all Crops.

In its action, it is as quick as Peruvian Guano, while it does not leave the land in an exhausted state, but on the other hand permanently improves it. This has been fully proven by years of trial.

CIRCULAR.

To THE PUBLIC:

The undersigned has now ready for the press a volume, the result of the lucubrations of many years, entitled a "Short Treatise on Chronology in General, and especially on Classical Chronology." The work is not intended to be a chronological chart, nor yet a collection of dates and synchronistic tables. The author's aim has been to prepare a "Horn Book" of Chronology, containing the leading principles, laws and facts of that science.

The FIRST part treats of measuring time and adjusting its various divisions; the SECOND, of fixing dates of historical events and arranging them in order; and the THIRD, of miscellaneous matters important to the chronologist.

UNDER THE FIRST DIVISION are discussed the day, the week, the month, the year and certain cycles used in computing the civil calendar and preparing the Almanac; the origin, history, nature, character, and various sub-divisions of each, especially among the ancients.

UNDER THE SECOND DIVISION the methods of ascertaing the dates or the time when they occurred; the actual dates of some important eras whose epochs ae disputed; the most important epochs and eras which have been employed at different times and by different nations, including those which are still in use; and the actual dates of the most prominent events in classical chronology.

UNDER THE THIRD AND LAST DIVISION are considered the epochs and eras of less importance; a sketch of the chronology of India and of China; the principles of the art of mnemotechyny as applied to dates, and the different systems of that art which have been propounded.

The author believes that a work successfully executed upon this plan, though it may not contain very much that is new, cannot but be useful and profitable, not only to the reading public, but also to the youth of our country, in the acquisition of classical and historical learning: and HISTORY will be THE STUDY of this age; it must always be the study of thoughtful men in times of revolution and great political changes, such as our country is at present undergoing.

The contributions of North Carolina, and of the Southern States of the Union generally, to American literature, have heretofore been few, and, for the most part, worthless. A few works of fiction and some fugitive poems include our past efforts; and, with the excellent Latin Grammar, and the edition of Cæsar's Commentaries, prepared for the press by Col. Bingham—works the very best of their character which have ever fallen under our observation, and which, under more favorable circumstances, will yet win for their author that high reputation in his profession which he merits—our contributions to USEFUL LITERATURE are of the very humblest character. Under such circumstances this book is, with some confidence, presented for public patronage.

The author proposes to publish by subscription. The cost of publication will be fifteen hundred dollars, or more. The book contains about two hundred and fifty 12 mo. pages. It will be brought out in the best style of one of our best American publishers, as to type, paper and binding. The cost of single copies delivered will be $2.50.

Persons desiring to subscribe can communicate with the undersigned at Raleigh, but subscription lists will be opened at various places of business in Raleigh and other towns in the State. Subscriptions will be required in cash as essential to the success of the enterprise. Editors who will give this Circular a few insertions and forward a copy of their papers containing it to the author, will be furnished with a copy of the book.

The volume will be placed in the hands of the publisher as soon as the author's success is at all assured, and will be issued to subscribers a few weeks thereafter.

BOOK AND JOB PRINTING.

THE UNDERSIGNED RESPECTFULLY announce to the public that they have formed a copartnership for the purpose of carrying on the

in all its branches.

Each member of the firm is a practical printer, and with an experience of twenty years each, they confidently appeal to the people of their native State for a liberal share of patronage.

They have one of the

in the State, and execute their own work, which, for neatness and cheapness, cannot be excelled in the South.

The senior member of the firm has been for a number of years superintendent of the Printing Office of the North Carolina Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind which has always sustained a high reputation for neat and tasty printing.

They are prepared to execute, at short notice,

Visiting,
Invitation and
